NEWS OF THE DAY.

The sword of Maximilian was presented to James Buchanan, in the government palace.

Brigadier General James Buchanan, who arrived in New York last night, was met by a large number of people.

W. J. Smith, of Philadelphia, and Mrs. E. F. Farnham, of Worcester, Ohio, were arrived in a balloon, at Pittsburgh, on the 10th.

Reports from Southern Illinois say that the wheat has been harvested, and is an extraordinary one, both in quantity and quality.

A crowd of soldiers from Fort Laramie visited the city of St. Louis, and after visiting the city, they returned to their quarters.

In the State of New York, the number of deaths during 1866 was 10,000. Births of American children, 170,000. Deaths of foreign children, 170,000. Deaths of

THE ELECTION LAW.

We would call attention to section 843 of the Code as an important matter for our friends to note.

Commissioners of Registration in counties in which the Radicals are defeated in securing a reliable majority of the registered voters may neglect or refuse to appoint officers of election; and thus defect an election entirely. That section is as follows:

"If the sheriff, or other officer whose it is at least a particular place of voting under the foregoing provisions, fail to attend, any Justice of the Peace present, or if no Justice of the Peace be present, any three freeholders may perform the duties prescribed by the preceding sections, (the appointment of election officers) or in case of necessity, may act as officers or inspectors."

In the contingency referred to, therefore, it is the duty of three freeholders to assume the place of the prohibited Council and Sheriffs, and the recent Commissioners, and fulfill the election law. Let our friends look to this. It will be observed that the second general proclamation on this subject imposed in advance the official integrity of Sheriffs, and devised a new scheme for the return of election polls. The object of the aldergery is to take the whole matter out of the hands of the elected officers of the people, and entrust to its own appointed agents. It is the business of the people to protect themselves. They will be false to their traditions, to the memory of a heroic ancestry, to their own honor, and to posterity, if they sit supine, and permit themselves to be bullied out of their rights.

The Press and Times, for the last three days, in its deliberate misrepresentations of the facts connected with the late riot at Franklin, and in its articles in relation to the political condition of the State and the purposes of its party in the ensuing election, has done more to excite bitterness and create strife and foment bloodshed in this city and throughout the State, than has been done by all the "Rebels" of Tennessee since the surrender in 1865.

Its tone is violent, vindictive, bloody and inflammatory. It spurns the field of argument and fact, and assumes the more congenial role of mobocracy, denunciation and falsehood. We have no comments to make. Our sincerest desires and all our efforts have been for peace, for law and justice, and we cannot consent to shift our position to minister to the wants and necessities of Radicalism. We cannot, therefore, unite with the Press and Times in its efforts to denounce this city and State in blood; but it may be well to remind that paper and those people whose action is directed by its teaching, that those who sow the wind are promised the whirlwind at harvest.

REMEMBRANCES.

The Philadelphia Press of the 3d, says:

"This morning is the anniversary of the battle of Gettysburg—a battle which saved the country and made our State illustrious forever in history."

Whereupon the Cincinnati Commercial observes: "The principal thing when Pennsylvania was remarkable for the fact that invaded the State was that their "winds were all there up." They ran like sheep from the Rebels, or remained at home in stolid indifference. Water was not turned out to fight the invaders. Water was not hastening to the New York regiments hastening to the rescue. Quite as many Southern sympathizers as any of our army men in Pennsylvania as any of our army men in the Southern States. The conduct of the people of Gettysburg before and after the battle, was distinguished by meanness.

One old shoe-maker, named Burns, embodied all the chivalry in the town. If any doubt these assertions we advise them to read the correspondence of the New York papers, the Times especially, regarding the Gettysburg during the days of those evil days, when some made them forever illustrious in history.

We are glad to learn that Judge S.

Heermans is announced as the Conservative candidate for the Legislature from Sumner county. Judge H. is a plain, substantial, patriotic citizen, who is universally esteemed by all classes as a man of the strictest integrity and virtue. He is ambitious only to serve the people in behalf of liberty and justice and against oppression and wrong. The people of Sumner, white and black, could not do better than to unite upon him, and give him a unanimous vote.

HORACE MAYNARD, the last of the Narragans, was met by Colonel C. S.

Cameron, at Jackson, on Monday last.

Maynard undertook, says the Brownsville Guidon, to repeat the contemporary fabrication that Jefferson Davis was captured in person, but was promptly falsified by Cameron, who told him that the story was a lie, and that he was a liar in repeating it.

Death of Gen. Thos. Francis Meagher.

Gen. Thos. Francis Meagher, Secretary and Acting Governor of Canada, fell before the New York Medical Journal

Fort Benton, and was drowned on the evening of the 1st inst. To our minds a more than ordinary interest has always been attached to the name of this man. Years ago we hung in perfect rapture over the glowing periods of his impassioned oratory.

With a heart alive to the degradation of Ireland, the existence of a solid imper-manence to stir up a rebellion against England. Though a young man at that time, he was the peer of Phillips, Curran and O'Connell in all that makes up the class of oratory peculiar to the Irish. His life from his entrance in the rebellion in Ireland in 1847, through his exile to America, his life in London, and his return to Ireland, where he died, was a life of constant struggle to receive public recognition because his friends were still in captivity, has been a grand epic. He commanded a brilliant leadership in the Federal army, and they displayed more gal-lantcy at Fredericksburg, in the charge on Marine Heights, than any native brigade ever exhibited on the field. Since the war has been acting Governor of Montana, territory, until he met his untimely death by drowning on the 1st inst.

A NEW CASE OF CHOLERA.—There has been much discussion and a great variety of opinion as to the cause of cholera. An interesting paper was recently read before the New York Medical Journal Association, by Dr. Herzog, in which he lays down as one of the principal causes of the origin and spread of cholera as an epidemic, the existence of a solid imper-

gland.

Many facts in regard to the effects of these cases of cholera are added, going to substantiate the Doctor's theory.
